

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An exposure method includes the steps of illuminating a pattern formed on a mask using an 5 illumination system that forms an effective light source having a first part that includes only spolarized light and a second part that mixes spolarized light and p-polarized light, and projecting, through a projection optical system, light from the 10 mask onto an object to be exposed.